LAST SAD RITES.

Body of the Dead President Buried at Canton.

State Funeral at Washington Tuesday And Body Viewed By Thousands.

Canton, O. Sept. 19.—After a State funeral at Washington Tuesday, the body of President McKinley was taken to Canton Wednesday and delivered to his townsmen. Every branch of the State Government was represented. The body was allowed to lie in state at the courthouse during the afternoon, where thousands, nearly all of whom had known him in life, passed in file to look upon the now scarcely familiar countenance. In the evening the casket was closed and taken to the McKinley home. Mrs. McKinley's condition was such that she could not participate in the funeral services to day in the little church where thirty years ago she was married. The final funeral services took place in the First Methodist church at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The services were short and simple. The body was then escorted by an imposing procession to Westlawn cemetery, where it was placed in a receiving vault.

Whole Town In Deep Mourning.
The whole town was in deep black. The only house in all this sorrow-stricken city without a piece of mourning drapery, strange as it may seem, was the old familiar McKinley cottage, on North Market street to which so many distinguished men in the country have made pilgrimages. The blinds were drawn, but there was no outward token of the blow that had robbed it of its most precious possession. The flowers bloomed on the lawn as they did two weeks ago. There was not even a bow of crepe upon the door when the stricken widow was carried by Abner McKinley and Dr. Rixey through it into the darkened home.

Only the kitchen post at the curb in front of the residence had been swathed in black by friends in order that it might conform to the general scheme of mourning decoration that had been adopted.

Features Scarcely Familiar.
Sad as was the procession which bore the body to the courthouse, where it lay in state this afternoon, it could not compare with the sadness of that endless double line of people who streamed steadily through the dimly-lighted corridors of the building from the time the coffin was opened until it was taken home to the sorrowing widow at nightfall. Perhaps the great change that had come upon the countenance moved the people more than the sight of the familiar features.

The signs of discoloration which appeared upon the brow and cheeks yesterday at the state ceremonial in the rotunda of the Capitol in Washington had deepened. The lips had become livid. All but two of the lights from the chandelier above the head were extinguished in order that the change might appear less noticeable, but every one who viewed the body to-day remarked the darkened features and the ghastly lips.

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Tom Arnold Bound Over to Circuit Court.

The examining trial of Tom Arnold, col., charged with aiding Renben Haynes, col., to escape, was held before Judge Cansler Wednesday and resulted in the prisoner being bound over to Circuit Court. Bail was fixed at $500. Arnold is accused of furnishing money to the slayer of John Cannon, col., and aiding him in his escape.

ABERNATHY, Agt.

SEAT OF WAR

In Hopkins County Not As Bad As Reported.

Two Hostile Forces in Camp But No Serious Trouble Has Occurred.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 18.—The probably fatal wounding of a non-union miner by unknown persons, who fired a half hundred shots through a house filled with sleeping negroes; the wounding of a young nonunion man by a deputy sheriff who mistook him for a trespassing union striker; harmless, but somewhat fear-inspiring, fusillades from the rifles of both strikers and guards; the arrival of probably 200 armed strikers from points outside the county; the swearing in of more deputies to be stationed with shouldered rifles and shotguns at various places designated by the mine operators, and the arrival of assistant Adj. Gen. Percy Haley, as the representative of Gov. Beckham, to investigate the situation with the view of reaching a conclusion on the question of calling out state troops—all these constitute the events which have made this a day not without excitement in Hopkins county.

The Situation.
And yet, while this array of facts presents seemingly a highly sensational situation, such a characterization might mislead one to believe that the people here were wrought to an intense pitch of excitement, when such is not the case.

Reinecke mine near Madisonville was idle again today. The account of the holding up of the non-union men yesterday by the union men was correctly given, there being no denial that the hold-up was by the men camping about Madisonville.

The Strikers' Claims.

Their friends assert that it is their only act of violence since the camp was formed. Many shots were fired at and in the vicinity of the Reinecke mine this morning and again late this afternoon, but it is asserted by the strikers that none of the shots were fired by them. They charge that guards at the Reinecke mine secreted themselves in a patch of woods near the mines and also adjacent to the strikers' camp and fired their rifles in order to create the impression that the strikers were resorting to further violence.

Union Men Arrested.

Andy Tuck, George Dockery, Wesley Cook, William Griffin and Thomas Coffman, all union men, were arrested to-day on the charge of confederating and banding together for the purpose of intimidating the employees of the Reinecke Coal Company. The first three were sent to jail in default of a bond of $200 to appear before Judge Hall Thursday for examining trial. Griffin and Coffman gave bond for their appearances, and were released. An effort may be made to resume operations in the Reinecke or the Monarch mines to-morrow.

Prisoners Taken to Hopkinsville.

County Judge Hall to-night issued an order to the Sheriff to convey to Christian county jail in Hopkinsville Deputy Sheriff Liddle and his possemen, McIntosh and Johnson, who are in jail in this city convicted of the murder of Henry Taylor and William Cook, union miners at Carbondale last January. The movements of the union men of the past few days have been such that the officers fear an attempt would be made to do the prisoners harm should they remain this city. This move was safely guarded, only two or three persons knowing that such a change was contemplated. The prisoners left on the midnight train, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff.

WAITING FOR INFORMATION.

Gov. Beckham Orders Troops to Be Ready to Move.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 18.—After being in communication by telephone a number of times during the day with the civil officers of Hopkins county, the scene of the mining troubles, Gov. Beckham tonight determined to hold the troops in readiness in their armories until to-morrow when he will receive information regarding the situation from Circuit Judge Nunn and assistant Adj. Gen. Haley. Judge Nunn has as yet made no request that troops be sent, and he will go to Madisonville tonight to ascertain the true situation. Col. Haley also went to Madisonville for that purpose. The Governor does not intend to send the State troops into the mining section until the civil authorities are no longer able to force obedience to the law. The Hopkinsville, Owensboro and Bowling Green companies, and Battery A., of Louisville, are held under marching orders.

OF PARALYSIS.

Death of The Widow of The Late Mr. Thos. Green.

Mrs. Mary Green, widow of the late Mr. Thos. Green, Sr., died at a Louisville sanitarium yesterday morning, of paralysis. Mrs. Green was born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Mar. 22, 1832, and was married to Mr. Green in April, 1859.

Her remains were brought to this city last night and are now at the home of her son, Mr. James M. Green. The funeral services will be held this morning at 9:30 from the Ninth Street Presbyterian church. Interment at the family burying ground at old Broad Castle, on the Canton pike.

ETHRIDGE CONVICTED

The trial of William M. Ethridge, indicted at Cadiz for shooting Joe Ballard on Sinking Fork, not far from Caledonia, last March, resulted in the conviction of the accused. He was given one year in the penitentiary.

Ballard was shot from ambush and one arm was so badly shattered that amputation was necessary.

CASE DISMISSED

As to Owen And Gresham Held Over.

The examining trial of Jas. Gresham, charged with cutting Peter M. Owen, was held before Judge Bell yesterday and resulted in the defendant being bound over to Circuit Court. Bail was fixed at $100, and was promptly furnished. The case against Owen was dismissed.

CHARLIE CAYCE.

Death of This Prominent Young Farmer Near Beverly.

Mr. Charles Cayce, a prominent young farmer of the Beverly neighborhood and son of Mr. I. H. Cayce, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. He had been suffering from Bright's disease of the kidneys for a year or more and a few months ago dropsy developed, resulting in his death.

Mr. Cayce lived in this city a few years ago and was a salesman for Guyton & Bradshaw when they conducted a grocery on Ninth street. He was a gentleman who enjoyed the esteem of a host of friends and in his death that neighborhood has lost one of its best citizens. He was about 30 years old and a member of the Christian church. He leaves a family.

The remains were laid to rest in the George Cayce burying ground yesterday afternoon.

PHILLIPS-ARMSTRONG.

Former Christian County Boy Weds Crofton Lady.

Mr. George D. Phillips, of New Baden, Ill., and Miss Zeffie Armstrong, of near Crofton, were married at the home of the bride's mother Tuesday night. Rev. John M. West performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the young people.

The groom formerly lived in this county, near Empire, but went to Illinois about a year ago and has since been engaged in coal mining. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips left Wednesday for their future home in the Sucker State.

MACK EDWARDS

In Serious Trouble At Marion, Ky.

Mack Edwards, formerly a bartender in this city, is in jail at Marion, Ky., charged with forgery on two separate warrants. Mrs. M. A. Cannon, of Marion, and J. D. Dunn, of Guthrie, procured his arrest. He is accused of forging a check on Webster & Co., represented to be his employers, and inducing the victims to endorse the checks, which were $50 in each case. The trial of Edwards was set for yesterday. He left here to become a miser at Norton's Gap.

Silver Spangled Hamburgs.

The S. S. family is the most popular of all the Hamburg breeds. The peculiar feather markings of these birds always attract attention, and their general hardiness and egg producing qualities recommend them to the utility as well as to the fancy poultryman.

Every feather on neck, breast, body, wings, back and tail has a white body or ground work and the ends tipped with the purest black. The white is of that beautiful snowy whiteness and the black is that of the purest ebony black and when the birds are nice and clean, and it is rare to see them otherwise, they make a very attractive appearance.

The cocks at full maturity weigh 5 to 5½ pounds and the hens usually about 3½ to 3¾ pounds each. We have seen heavier but that is a fair average.

Their carriage in both sexes is very dignified and proud. The head is carried well up, giving the plump, meaty breasts a very prominent appearance. The males are exceedingly proud and take full control of the females. Often the hens won't eat anything thrown to them until the head of the house has examined it and given his consent. They are extremely gallant and industrious. The hens never brood or even get broody only in rare cases.

The feet and legs are neat and trim, ornamented with strong, firm white nails. The skin of legs and feet is a pigeon blue unless the bird is old and then it is white. The beak or "bill" is set firmly on the head and is slightly drab in color and is streaked with black, the nostrils are large, hence they have abundance of room for breathing. The combs are of most fiery red, also the wattles. The earlobes are slightly drab, giving them a greenish blue tinge.

The eyes are large, dark and expressive. Reverting to the comb; it is square, low and wide, ending in a spike which turns up at the end. Such a comb is known as the "Rose comb" kind. It fits snugly and tightly to the head and renders them almost frost proof. Occasionally the long spikes and the little spikes in the body of the comb will get "burnt" but not often. The skull is deep and wide giving room for a large brain, which accounts for their superior intelligence.

The neck is of medium length and clothed with a "shawl" of long, narrow and distinctly black tipped feathers; these extend well down over the shoulders. The wing bows and secondaries are white and so ornamented with black that when the wing is "at rest" there is a black bar running full width of the white. The tail is very full and wide, and such a thing as a bent-tail cock in a well bred chicken is almost unknown.

The feathers are wide and the ends black. The sickles are long and white and rise above and gracefully curve over the other feathers and drop about on a line with the middle of the body, and each one bears the usual black angle.

The breast is full and carried out prominently and with the usual coloring makes a very excellent sight. The undercolor is of a steel gray throughout the body.

Their eggs are of medium size and pure white in color. They are very uniform in size and shape, so much so that one of their eggs can be detected among dozens of others. They are also very fertile and when the breeding stock is all right it is not uncommon to get twelve chickens from a setting of thirteen eggs.

Sometimes we hear people talking about them being hard to raise. There is a rule I would like to give and it applies alike to all of the smaller varieties such as the Leghorns, Polish, Bantams, etc., and that is to keep them separate from young of the larger classes. Take, for instance, the Cochins or Brahmas, or Plymouth Rock or Langshan, they are no more free from disease and early death than the smaller ones. But they are big, coarse and rough and if one keeps them all together the bigger ones will over-ride and trample the smaller ones to death. You might just as well try to raise pigs in a pen where the fattening pigs are and expect success. No one would expect to succeed by penning the puffs of down with a coop full of full-grown birds. Use a little "boss" sense along this line and you will be surprised how healthy and rugged these smaller varieties are.

The Hamburgs are unsurpassed as layers. They begin early and stick to it until late. No complaint here about the eggs all being laid during the warm months when eggs are cheap, because, if treated right they will lay throughout the winter months as well as in the spring and summer.

Their meat is white, juicy and tender and the quality is unsurpassed by any. They mature early. The cockerels will begin crowing often at seven or eight weeks old. Another thing, the sexes can be detected by the comb as soon as they are out of the shell, and the primary feathers will tell you whether your birds will do for the show pen or dinner pot. This is not always true but as a safe rule it will hold good.—Rev. G. A. Chamblin, Poultry Gazette.

What does it profit a woman if she gain the whole world of knowledge and lose her own health? Young women students, and school teachers, eager, ambitious and full of energy, very often neglect their health in the struggle to gain education. They eat insufficient food, and at irregular hours, they allow irregularity of the womanly functions to be established, and the result is that they become chronic invalids with all their education practically worthless. There is a plain road back to health for such cases, marked by the feet of thousands. It is the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the delicate organs of womanhood. A cure so certainly follows the use of these remedies that out of hundreds of thousands who have tried the treatment, ninety-eight in every hundred have been perfectly and permanently cured. Constipation, with its calamitous consequences, which is a common ailment of students, can be entirely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Curious, Though Disastrous, Experience in a French Forest.

A lady was entering the forest of St. Germain, near Paris, in an automobile recently when the machinery became out of order. The passengers brought the car to a standstill in order to overhaul the engine, when all immediately a violent explosion occurred and the car was enveloped in flames. The passengers had a narrow escape. The liquid fuel in the reservoir of the car overflowed and became ignited, and it was feared that the burning stream of oil would run among the bushes fringing the road, setting them alight, in which event the forest would have been involved and widespread damage caused. The forest fire, however, was averted by the felling of a few trees and the cutting away of the undergrowth in the vicinity of the burning vehicle. The motor car burned fiercely for about an hour, leaving only a mass of tangled steel and ironwork. The value of the automobile was $5,000.—Scientific American.

ASTHMA CAN BE CURED.

A Noted Physician Will Prove This to Sufferers in Hopkinsville.

The astonishing statement that Asthma can be cured is coming from so well known authority as Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann will be of interest to asthmatic sufferers. The experience of most Asthmatics has been that little if any relief has been afforded them by the methods heretofore employed, and, in fact, the disease has up to now been regarded as incurable. This noted physician has, however, after a life-long study of Asthma and kindred diseases, discovered a remedy which not only instantly relieves the severest cases of Asthma, Hay Fever and Bronchitis, but has actually cured thousands whose cases had been pronounced incurable. So complete is Dr. Schiffmann's confidence in his remedy that he requests this paper to announce that for the next three days, he offers a liberal sample box of "Schiffmann's Asthma Cure" free of charge to all persons applying at R. C. Hardwick's Drug Store, 7 Main St.

Dr. Schiffmann believes that an actual test will be the most convincing, and in fact the only way to overcome the natural prejudice of thousands of Asthmatics who have heretofore sought relief in vain. Persons living out of town will receive a package free by writing direct to Dr. R. Schiffmann, 370 Jackson Street, St. Paul, Minn., before Sept. 21st, and enclosing a 2c stamp.

BILL RAISERS.

Headed This Way—Country Merchants Among Victims.

An organized gang of bill raisers are operating in Tennessee and are said to be making their way to this state. They are passing one-dollar notes of the 1900 series raised to tens. Some of the changed figures are so cleverly executed that they were passed on Nashville banks as a test by a U. S. Deputy Marshal. The bills are being passed on country merchants and toll-gate keepers principally. A secret service man has been put on the case.

EMMA'S LETTERS.

The Anarchist Lecturer in Love With Hippolyte Havel.

The letters of Emma Goldman to Hippolyte Havel, one of the anarchists now under arrest for complicity in the plot to kill President McKinley, were translated Monday by the Chicago Chronicle. The letters were found in the New York Avenue House in London, where she was arrested.

Though they failed to reveal any conspiracy, they showed that Miss Goldman is very much in love with Havel. There are over thirty letters, all written in Polish, and couched in endearing language. They frequently refer to Havel as "Putzy," which means "Sweet-tittle one." On several occasions she sent him money and expressed regret that the amount was not larger, but that on account of the activity of the police in the Eastern cities where she was lecturing the proceeds were small.

Accompanying one letter was $7, of which she requested that $1 be paid to Isaac, the balance to be kept for himself. In this letter she said she was sorry she could not send more, but she had made only $10 that week. If her "Putzy" were only with her, she said, she could do better. The letters were sent from Philadelphia, Rochester and New York. In them she tells her lover of her troubles with the police. She tells of having to address a crowd from the steps of the City Hall in Philadelphia because the police had requested the owners of halls not to rent them to her. She refers frequently to the nervous strain which she is under in speaking to an audience, and wishing her "Putzy" was near her. Prince Kropotkin, she asserts, cleared $750 on his lecture in New York City.

When the police discovered the nature of the letters no attempt was made to keep a literal translation of them, as the subject of anarchy is never mentioned, nor anything that would implicate her in any conspiracy.

ACCEPTS NOMINATION.

Rev. D. S. Edwards Writes a Card to Democrats.

To the Chairman of the Democratic Committee Hopkins County, Ky.

Dear Sir: Having been notified of the nomination tendered me for the senate in this, the 6th senatorial district, of Kentucky, at your convention at Madisonville, Kentucky, the 2nd of this month, I desire to extend to you and the gentlemen composing said committee my thanks for the compliment, especially so, since the nomination was unsought upon my part.

After deliberate consideration of the question I accept the nomination on the following condition: I am unable to make a thorough canvass of the senatorial district, on account of other arrangements or engagements previously made, which will require the greater part of my time up to November next.

Now Mr. Chairman and the Democracy of this senatorial district if it is useful that the candidate for the senate make a thorough canvass at this time, it is perfectly agreeable to me for the committee to again convene and nominate some one else who can do so.

I make this stipulation for the cause of Democracy. I am a Democrat and if I know it, will not place anything in the way of success. If Mr. Chairman, the stipulation is accepted, I will make such canvass as I can, and promise the voters of this senatorial district if they think me worthy and capable and elect me to represent them in the upper house of the next legislature of Kentucky, I will endeavor to make an honorable, and to the best of my ability, an efficient representative.

Respectfully,
D. S. EDWARDS.

CROP ITEMS

Other News From West Christain.

Hawkins, Sept. 16.—The tobacco worms are keeping the farmers of this vicinity quite busy, though they say they are not so bad as they were some days ago.

The people here haven't cut any tobacco yet worth mentioning. One of our citizens, Mr. Dock Hensley, who has a very fine crop has cut some.

Mr. Jno. R. Woosley, our merchant at Hawkins, visited his father's family near Sinking Fork last Sunday.

Mr. W. D. Maloney and Miss Emma Wade attended the show at Hopkinsville the 13th.

Mr. R. J. Hopson, from Casky, was visiting relatives in and near Hawkins last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Croft, of St. Charles, are visiting Mrs. Croft's father, Mr. Dock Hensley.

The protracted meeting at Mt. Carmel has closed. There was some very earnest work done by the ministers, Revs. Hummel and Shimmell, resulting in a few conversions, and several additions to the church.

A shadow has been hovering over the people of Hawkins ever since the news of the shooting of the President and it came in full force on Saturday when we learned the fact that he was dead. Realizing that in him we have lost one of the greatest men this nation has ever known, Democrats as well as Republicans are dismayed and aggrieved over this appalling circumstance.

The bald-headed club at this place will meet next Saturday at 3 o'clock p. m., to try one of its members, Jno. R. Woosley, for purchasing a bottle of hair forcer, intending there-by to break up the club.

Caleb Williams and J. B. Hopson are seen together very often of late. Uncle Caleb had better look-out he'll have one of your horses or one of your girls before you know it.

Fails to Pass The Rigid Examination Required—Vacancy To Fill.

Prof. F. H. Renshaw, nominee on the Democratic Fusion Ticket for county school Superintendent, failed to attain the required average of 85 in his recent examination and is therefore ineligible for the office.

His general average was 80.7-11. On some branches he secured as high as 96 and in six branches his grade was above 85, but in history, geography and arithmetic were the branches that caused him to fail.

The examination is a very difficult one and out of the 55 applicants in July 7 failed. In the August examination several failed besides Prof. Renshaw. One of these was L. J. Stivers, of Jefferson county.

The examination was conducted by County Judge Canaler, Clerk Prowse and Prof. John Sollee, who sent the papers to the State board for examination. There is no other opportunity to examine candidates and another nomination will have to be made, and a nominee selected who is already eligible without examination, by reason of holding a state certificate.

STORE HOUSE ROBBED.

Thief Secured Several Watches And Other Articles.

Mr. J. F. Hughlett's store at Crofton was entered by a burglar who secured five watches, a grit pistol-32 caliber seven shot central fire, and a shoe knife. The robbery was committed on the night of May 14 last, but the matter was kept a secret by Mr. Hughlett, in the hope that he might secure a clue to the identity of the thief. The burglar effected an entrance by prizing up a side window. The house was ransacked, but nothing else was missed.

Mr. Hughlett offers a suitable reward for any information concerning the stolen articles and in an article elsewhere in this issue of the KENTUCKIAN gives the case and movement numbers of the time-piece taken.

Ministers and other Christian people of all denominations took part in the solemn service.

The program was as follows: Hymn, "America".....Audience Prayer.....Rev. J. L. Wyatt Hymn, "Nearer My God To Thee".....Audience Prayer.....Rev. Dr. W. L. Nourse President McKinley's favorite hymn, "Lead Kindly Light".....Male Quartet Address.....Rev. H. D. Rev. Dr. J. L. Wyatt The addresses of Mr. Smith, Judge Breathitt and Dr. Harrison were all appropriate and thoughtful discussions of the question of assassination, that has cost the lives of three presidents in 37 years.

This question has been brought very close to the people of Kentucky by the assassination of Governor Goebel and the vigorous denunciation of assassination by Judge Breathitt especially met with the approval of the very large audience. He declared that assassins should not only be made powerless to kill, but their meetings held to form conspiracies should be broken up by the strong arm of the law.

The first frost of the season occurred Tuesday night and this was followed Wednesday night by a heavier one, but the damage done to tobacco in this county was only slight. The high barometer and frost making weather has moved rapidly from the Northwest, and it now covers the interior of the country, and the West and Northwest. Heavy and killing frost was reported Tuesday in the states west of the Mississippi River, and light frosts are reported from Northern Illinois. West of the Mississippi and as far south as Kansas, the temperature was at and below the freezing point.

MISS LUCY ANNIE HEISER, OF MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Miss Lucy Annie Heiser, a graduated nurse of nine years' experience, trained and graduated from the Homeopathic Hospital of Minneapolis, Minn., writes as follows:

Albert Lea, Minn., Nov. 8, 1899. The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio: Gentlemen—Although my school does not believe in patent medicines, I have found it to be a fact that Peruna is a grand and valuable medicine. I have known it to cure Mrs. Sampson, suffering with an inflamed womb, aggravated by malaria, after the doctors had failed to help her. Another of my former patients suffered with a complication of female diseases: she was so thin, nothing but skin and bones, but Peruna cured her and she is to-day in good health and good flesh. Facts prove that Peruna revives lost strength and restores to the sick that most wonderful blessing of life—health.

DRAMATIC DIALECT READING.

Charming Impersonator—Southerners Applaud Representations of Darks.

The Boston Courier, in commenting on Mrs. Martha S. Gielow, who will appear at Holland's Opera House on the evening of September 30, says:

"Mrs. Martha S. Gielow, who made such a success in London and England last season, is now making a tour of the South. She is received with enthusiasm wherever she appears. In each city, her picturing of the old dandy of the South is pronounced 'the real thing.'"

Her negroes are truly the characteristic negroes of the South, the old South that is passing away.

Mrs. Gielow is giving the most of her dark readings in her native state, Alabama. She has had receptions tendered her in almost every city in her state.

Mrs. Gielow is of one of the old and cultured families of the Old South. The country home of her family was always a centre of attraction for people of literary, musical, and cultivated tastes. This tiny little daughter of the South is woman of winning personality, of rare charm of manner, of marvellous talent. Brilliant as her career is, it is but a prophecy of more brilliant successes to come.

EMPLOYEES' REFERENCES.

A World of Humor Furnished by Some of Them.

There is quite a small world of humor in the character of a man, and it is almost a pity that for reasons that are obvious, it rarely comes to light.

According to T. B. Titts, a humorous North London donor, not long ago gave the following significant character to a clown, whom he was by no means sorry to see back of "First year, a dull and inefficient servant. Second year, an indulgent master. Third year, an intolerable tyrant." It is needless to say that it was not on the strength of this character that the clown got his next employment.

Many years ago a whimsical Yorkshire vicar, when his servants applied to him for a character, invariably gave it in Latin, to their mystification and delight; and as comparatively few later employers were able to read the vicar's writing or understood his Latin, these characters answered admirably.

To a drunken gardener he gave a character, which, when translated, read thus: "Johannes H. is one of those rare characters who have a genius for doing the wrong thing at the wrong time on the rare occasions when they do anything at all. Under other conditions he would have made an excellent estate potter, where the chief qualification is to do nothing luxuriously; but from the days of Adam downward there never was a man by nature and inclination less qualified to be a servant or a gardener." The humor of the thing was that the man was as proud of his character, "written in a foreign language," as any hero of his Victoria Cross; and it was accepted by his next employer as a tribute to his efficiency.

There was no ambiguity about the character given by another employer to his groom. It contained only three words: "Discharged with ignominy," and was actually presented by the groom to a prospective employer as a testimonial to his character.

A Yorkshire squire, when asked by a farm laborer whose services he was dispensing with for a character, gave him this testimonial: "Henry H. would be an irreproachable servant if it were not for his devotion to Bacchus, his chronic indisposition to industry, and his systematic indifference to instruction." The man looked at the character, spelled it carefully through, and then said: "Thankee, sir! If I give up baccy, that will be all right, won't it?" "Well, that will be a step in the right direction," the squire said, with a smile. And the man walked proudly off with his unique testimonial.

It was another York-hire employer who gave this satirical character to a discharged servant, who showed him with pride that the "thing in his tail" was pointed out to him: "Honest, industrious, and so on. A man who will not talk, but do. Who works with head as well as hands. Respects his master and his country. A better servant could not be. Reverse all this, you have J. T."

The following humorous character given by a lady to her cook was read in a London court a few months ago: "The first month I was convinced I had got a treasure, the second month I was doubtful about it, the third month I was devoutly thankful to get the treasure out of the house."

An interesting libelation resulted a few years ago from a character given by her cook by one lady to another, to whom the girl had applied for employment. The character was, on the face of it, anything but a desirable one. It ran thus: "I have only had one maid comparable with Louisa X., and she ended her days in a lunatic asylum."

Here was, prima facie, a case for exemplary damages; but the defendant was able to prove that the domestic who ended her days in a lunatic asylum was in all ways excellent, and that the testimonial was an admirable one and by no means libelous. But why the good lady should have introduced that equivocal reference to a lunatic asylum was never made clear.

In another case a lady had to pay substantial damages for an exhibition of spiritism against a slighted servant. In writing to a lady who asked for the girl's character the mistress wrote: "I am unable to give Clara Z. what she never had a character." In vain she contended that the meaning was that the girl had never been in a situation until she came to her, and thus had never had a character.

It was the underlining of the word "character," that proved fatal to the lady's plea.

COSMOPOLITAN HONOLULU.

The cosmopolitan character of Honolulu is probably the only one in the world. The cosmopolitan character of Honolulu is probably the only one in the world. The cosmopolitan character of Honolulu is probably the only one in the world.

This remark, says the Honolulu Star, was much nearer the real condition than the majority of its hearers appreciated. At that time no less than six different interpreters were in court waiting to translate the testimony of the various witnesses. There were Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiian, Portuguese, German and Porto Rican witnesses and defendants.

The next day there were Greeks and Galicians who were up for trial, and several weeks ago a Russian witness had to be examined. Capt. Sam Johnson had to be asked to act as an interpreter to the Russian.

With the advent of the Porto Rican regular Spanish interpreter will probably have to be secured. The latest additions to the force of island laborers are every once in awhile drifting into court for various offenses, and now that Capt. A. A. Fox, of the mounted police, intends to leave the country the police cannot fall back on him for assistance in the Spanish language. In addition to these there are a number of other nationalities here, including French and Italians.

REFURNISHING WINDSOR.

Discarded Furniture of Royal Always Bored Awaiting to Old Custom.

His majesty intends to clear out a good deal of the old furniture in Windsor castle and replace them with his own. Having this in view, old residents have been on the lookout for signs of a bonfire somewhere in the precincts of the castle, for in past times, when any chairs and table and other articles therein were condemned, it was the practice to have them burned. The object of this was to prevent pieces of furniture and with the queen's monogram being let loose, as it were, and allowed to drift into the hands of brokers, and thence into the possession of persons having no right to them, but willing to pay almost any price to be able to display such royal articles in their own houses. It was a wasteful expedient, but one can understand the need of such a precaution. There have been so many instances of royal gifts and discarded articles being found in shops and stores that some means of prevention are quite necessary. But up to the present time there have been no indications of a bonfire.

AN OFFICIAL PAPER.

Prince Ching's Idea for a First-Class Modern Newspaper.

The Peking Gazette can hardly be described as a newspaper, says the Shanghai Mercury, and besides it circulates only among the official classes. One of the schemes of the official reformers was to have an official paper on western lines under government auspices. The Universal Gazette now states that Prince Ching is eager to revive the idea and is consulting with the foreign ministers regarding the newspaper laws and regulations in vogue in western lands. His idea is that at the beginning the paper should be free to all so as to enlighten the people. It would appear as if the prince realized the power of the press in the accident and sees how it can be utilized by the government in China. We wish the project every success.

Another Kind of Barometer.

Attracted by the shrill whistling of the wind through the network of wires before a storm, Dr. Eydman, a German, has made a novel investigation. He is now convinced that any unusual disturbance in the telegraph wires foretells bad weather, and that the character of the atmospheric disturbances may be learnt from the sound.

A deep sound of considerable strength, for a time, was light showers of rain and moderate winds within 38 to 40 hours, while a sharp, shrill sound warns of high winds, with much rain or snow.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 212 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and thought I had a chronic bronchitis under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foy's Kidney and Throat Cure and I have not been troubled since."

The man who keeps his engagements punctually loses a lot of valuable time waiting for the other fellow.

Mr. G. A. Sullivan, a merchant of Memphis, Mo., writes: "Every Sunday I am meeting with wonderful success, I use your medicine and I have not been troubled since."

The greatest writer is the one who gives his readers the most knowledge, and takes from them the least time.

H. C. Watkins of the Methodist Church, Springfield, Pa., says: "My wife has been very ill with kidney trouble and tried several doctors without success. After taking one bottle of Foy's Kidney Cure, she was much better, and was completely cured after taking four bottles. Sold by all druggists."

Man stands between the devil and the deep sea or between one of them and woman.

"I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mrs. M. S. Foster of Chicago, Ill., "and it was cured by several bottles of Foy's Kidney Cure. I was much better, and was completely cured after taking four bottles. Sold by all druggists."

Once in a long while some man does a good deed without thinking how the public will applaud him.

No Relief For 20 Years.

"I had bronchitis for twenty years," says Mrs. M. S. Foster of Chicago, Ill., "and it was cured by several bottles of Foy's Kidney Cure. I was much better, and was completely cured after taking four bottles. Sold by all druggists."

Politeness is like an air cushion; there may be nothing in it, but it saves many a hard jolt.

Every time an ill-tempered man smiles he looks as though he felt ashamed of it.

Osteopathy as a Profession.

Miss Ella Gardner, Cumberland Presbyterian missionary in Japan, says: "Osteopathy has done so much for me that were I choosing a secular vocation for a life work I certainly choose it; and were it not for the time and money required to acquire the knowledge I would like to have it as a help in my work in the mission field."

The practitioner of Osteopathy finds himself in possession of skill that the world is demanding, and he possesses and for several years will continue to possess, a natural monopoly of this skill. The unique nature of this skill whereby he effects cures in diseases hitherto unsuccessfully treated, and at the same time cures with equal success in diseases curable by other methods, together with the scarcity of men and women possessing the new power of healing, causes Osteopathy to rank first among the professions in respect to pecuniary remuneration.

In point of honor and honorableness, Osteopathy ranks co-equal with the other intellectual professions. From all the above causes, Osteopathy is growing rapidly by the constant addition to the ranks of men and women from every walk of life, and especially from the ranks of college men and women. To these Osteopathy offers, a wide-open door.

Send for catalogue and investigate Osteopathy.

Can You Afford To?

Can you afford to experiment with unknown and untried brands of Fertilizers, when you can get right here what you know to be good? Soils are of great variety, what suits your farm may not be adapted to your neighbor's. Experimenting may mean the loss of a crop, as well as the amount invested in Fertilizers. Every farmer knows Amour and Homestead, Eagle and Ox Brand Fertilizers. They are no experiment. Its Time to Put in Your Order Now if you want it to come forward with shipments for Early Fall seeding.
